

PampEarth

An initiative by Anurag Shrivastava, PampEarth is a sustainable brand that encourages people to lead a green lifestyle. It aims to provide accessible and affordable sustainable products that can be used by everyone. Some of its products are:

- Eco-Friendly Stationery
- Bamboo Products (Bamboo Toothbrush, Bamboo Straw, etc)
- Handmade Papers

PampEarth is an initiative to spread awareness among people and especially among the younger generation about the need for eco-friendly alternatives to plastic products. It was started to encourage people to switch to a sustainable and green lifestyle.

Products of PampEarth are made of materials which are either waste or sustainable in nature (i.e. bamboo). The product range includes eco-friendly stationery and utilities.

PampEarth products not only help to reduce the carbon footprint but also adds some positive benefit to our environment with an objective to reduce pollution by minimising the consumption of single-use plastic by switching to sustainable alternative.
